WHY WE ARE PROSPEROUS!

While the people of Ohio slept during 1918 and without labor, worry or bother, their War Savings Stamps increased in value nearly $5,000,000. Interest on the government's baby bonds during the last year totals that amount in this state. At a time when much of our money seems to be going to the government, it is a novel and pleasing thing to learn that some of the millions we poured forth are beginning to return. Each year the amount of this return will increase.

The $125,000,000 held in War Savings Stamps in Ohio is a blanket of credit over the state available upon call. War Savings Stamps are an anchor to windward for everyone who owns them.

War Savings Stamps have made communities more prosperous. This great credit of $125,000,000 makes the merchants safer in their credits. Most business now is done on credit. Merchants like to know that their customers are good. And when a merchant knows that his customer is a saver he knows he is a good creditor.

War Savings Stamps help to stabilize business. The small saver and the big saver are attracted because War Savings Stamps are interest bearing notes on the government. They are securities that can be had in denominations of 25 cents or $5. They can be delivered at your door by a mail carrier. This form of saving and investment will be continued throughout the year not only because of the need of the government for funds to sustain troops abroad, to bring them back, to care for the sick, maimed, and wounded and dependents of those killed but because it is a development of a government function which pleases a thrifty people who appreciate not only the simplicity of the method of saving but the opportunity for accumulation with a good interest rate.

The Victory loan is now over but the government's needs have not been satisfied. Ohio has its 1919 War Savings Stamps quota yet to meet. Certainly the state is not to be permitted to fail in its last war job. The people are only asked to lend their money at an excellent rate of interest. War Savings Stamps are a good investment, they help the government, they inculcate the habit of saving. They prove golden umbrellas on rainy days.

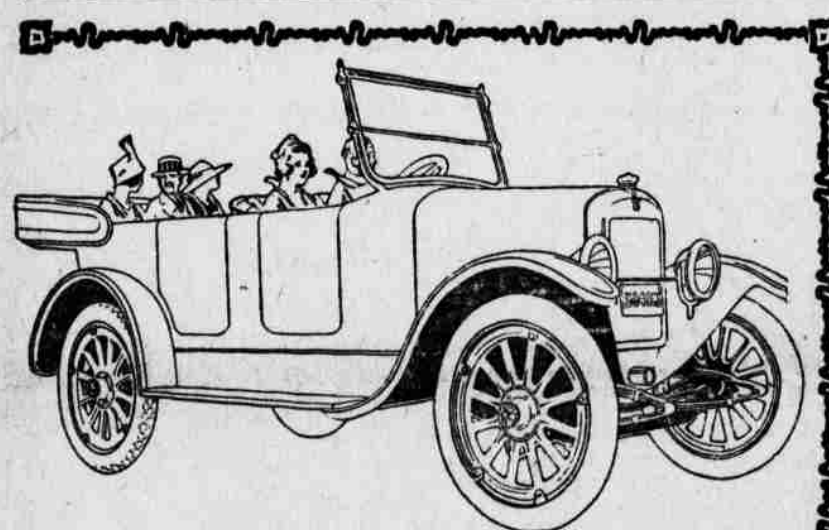

VICTORY HIGHWAYS

The people of America are discussing suitable memorials to our fallen and returning heroes. Shall such memorials be cold and stolid urns, or useless shafts; or useful, educating and health giving highways?

It is said that the economic and moral fibre of any community is determined by the condition of its highways. Not by its schools, nor its church spires, nor its banks, nor its factory chimneys, but by its roads.

Then what more fitting monument can be built in honor of our heroes than memorial roads? How can any state, county or community better commemorate the achievements of its valiant sons than in a permanent road dedicated to them? And all of these to be planned and constructed so as to form a giant system of Victory Highways.

We may study to obtain the most inspiring effects in bronze and marble; exhaust the realm of architectural shafts, but nowhere can be found a more appropriate, dignified and lasting memorial of a grateful nation than in the construction of roads, which in their completion will form a great chain of Victory Highways.
